At the fork in the roads of Braila-Ianca and Braila-Viziru, northwest of Braila, there is a large area which serves as a depot for trucks, tanks, armored cars and mechanized equipment. These vehicles are based at this site more or less permanently and informant said he had seen groups go out and return from maneuvers. In this area, protecting the depot there are six anti-aircraft guns.

Along the Viziru and Ianca roads telephone poles and wires are being installed. The project has been completed between Ianca and Faurei, and between Viziru and Cioara. The stretch between Faurei-Dudesti-Ciresu-Cioara is still unfinished.

Immediately outside Galati, on the Braila road, at Strada Campului there is a large barracks area, four kilometers square, where Soviet troops are housed. Trucks stored in this area have their tires painted white so that their use can be detected easily by the Soviet military authorities.
